

What the race time is actually sensitive to

Only one parameter in the model is capable of moving the optimal split distribution. Everything else, including every hydrodynamic term, changes how fast the race is swum and nothing about how it is divided. C_D, A and rho enter only through their product, so their elasticities are identical by construction; rho is omitted because a realistic pool spans under 1%, not the 10% plotted here.